THE BOUNTY QUESTION.-The recent de ciaion of the Supreme Couri in reference to who argentitled to bountles, does not settle thit question so definitely as it was supposed it would. On May $, 1801, the call was issued for 42,000 troops, and on the following day the War Department issued an order aunauncing that these who enlisted would re-ceive $100 bounty. Congress, on the 22d of July, 18d, restricted the bounty to those who enlisted for two years. Between May and and July 23, one hundred and twenty-five thousand men were enlisted, and eighty-two instead of forty regiments (20 infrastry and i cavalry) mustered into zervice. Adjutant General Townsend has now been called upon to designate which of the regiments mus-sered in are sultied to the bounty, limiting is to one third of the whole number enlisted. nauncing that these who enlisted would rethe United States brought to the attention of the Government the fact that he consid-ared the tariff act of 1861, by lavying $40 per ton on Hussian hemp and $35 per ton on India hemps, such as Manilla, &c., a viola-tion of treaty stipulations. The House, a few days ago, decided that it was no violation of our treaty with Russia, on the ground that the hamps of Russia and of India were wholly different. The subject was then re-ferred to the Finance Committee of the Senate, and a sub-committee has been consider from that assumed by the House, and the committee will soon report the same to the Scoate, that the discrimination against Rus-

The Attorney General suggested that, in The Atterney teneral suggested that, is case the court allowed these appeals to be dismissed, the Hepburn-Griswold case he reopsused, remarking that in his view, the people had for themselves determined the legal tender act to be constitutional by the adoption of the fourteenth amendment. Ans addressed a court of Claims. The motion was not allowed in the concurring judges mow present made such a request, the motion was not allowed.

Mr. Justice Bradley remarked that in the courts where he had been accustomed to practice, no write terror or appeal count of discussed by the plaintiff therein, or oppo-nents, without the consent of the authori-ties, but as the practice of this court had been different, he cheerfully concurred in respect it.

Thus the legal tender cases are at an end for the present term, and the recent decision of the court stands as the law of the land.

THE CORRESCY QUESTION.—The Banking tion, but reached no results. The proposition now under consideration by the committee is a bill consolidating the Senate currency bill and the House mandatory request for an increase of circulation. It will be remembered that, some time since, the Senate passed a bill retiring the forty-five millions three per cents, and authorizing the issue of the same amount of additional bank circulation. Subsequently, the House peremptorily ordered the committee to report a bill increasing the circulation by the amount of fifty millions.

The aim of the committee has been to harmonize these two measures, and it is now harmonize these two measures, and it is now

Ir Rav. O. B. Facoustmentam, of New York, has been accurately reported in the papers, he presched a "Sermon" on Easter Sanday which accounts for his popularity among a certain set. He said:
"The laws of matrimony should be remod-ing the said of the said of the said on he fealure of one another—as that the bond should not be marely a legal one, but that a condition of matriage should be a permission to each to not as he or she thought proper, and at the dictates of the feelings and affra-tions."

This is the masage as reported. It will be seen that it sets up a code of morality some-what different from that which at present prevails as a general rule. There is no doubt, however, that some people highly approve of it. Mn. Paine, of Wisconsin, will at the proper time offer the following amendment to the tariff bill : That from and after the 10th day of June, 1873, there shall be a re-30th day of June, 1973, there shall be a re-duction of ten per centum on all daties im-posed by laws then in force upon goods, wares, and merchandles imported from for-eign countries into the United States, except apirituous, malt, and vinous liquors and

It was fortunate the weather was cold, otherwise it would have been necessary to abandon the agency.

It forther appears that when the disease was at its height those suffering with it, parched with fever would prevail on their friends to carry them from the buts linto the open air, where they would crawl to the river side and romain for bours immersed in the ice cold water. The consequence was that many took cold from the exposure and died in great agony. Others, to escape further sufferings, put an end to their own lives. The precise locality of the camp was determined by those seeking it by the cries of the sufferers, which could be heard a long way off. Under the superstition common among the Indians when greatly affects by disease, one of their medicine men was killed to propitiate the offended Deity. This scene for long weeks was frightful to behold, and the raviges of the disease were checked only through the most stremous exertions of the physicians and clittme employed for the purpose. Assault on Miss Edith O'German.

Miss Edith O'German, the ex-Sister of Charity and the well known lecturer against Catholicism, narrowly escaped with her life at Madison, N. J., where she lectured on Friday evening. Madison is the place where Miss German first entered the Roman Catholic sisterhood as a nun. The subject of her locture was "The Romiels Priesthood." During the evening a large crowd gathered around the church, and while she was being escorted by the Rev. Mr. Parsons from the church to her barriage, and used aboaive and inantiting language. A number of students from the Drew Theological Seminary came to the rescue, but just as the lady was stepping into her carriage a shot was fired, the bull passing over her head. She was rapidly driven away. On reaching the parsonage a crowd surrounded the premises, and stones were hurled, and violent language was used. Most of the students remained on guard during the night, and the next day a number of them escorted her to Jersey City. It is not known who fired the shot, but the leaders of the mob are known, and prompt measures will be taken to bring the guilty persons to justice.—N. Y. Tribuws, 18th. year of the organization of the society in 1819, when the contributions amounted to 8825.04, down to last year, when the collections were 869, 962.90, the small gatherings have increased from an average of threetenths of a cent per member in 1819, to fiftysix cents and five tenths in 1869.
The highest average per member that the contributions have reached was, in 1865, seventy-eight cents and one tenth. In the following year, 1869, the largest contributions ever received by the society were made, n.meity, 8671,090.65, about $41,027 more than last year's collections. The total amount of the receipts for the fifty years the society has been in existence is 85,565,609.87.
